Dear Sir:

XM Radio is the greatest improvement in radio since marconi invented the vacuum tube. When one can find the same song being played by two or more FM stations at the same exact time on your FM dial, one can realize why we need the XM alternative. I'd rather pay the service charge and have a chose of what I want to listen to than listen to 20 minutes each hour of the same boring commercials and still have no choice in what I listen to.

Can't honestly say I lhave listened much to the weather reports and traffic conditions but may in the future. And why shouldn't I be able to hit a button and listen to them when I need them rather than scan the dial and noit find them.?

Leave XM alone or if you want to give them a rough time, invest in an alternate similar format and go into honest competition with them.
